PRESENTED BY

SENIOR CLASS

We know there are forces 'twixt heaven and earth
Which govern our sorrow, our love, and our mirth;
These wielded by God, the Great Spirit Sublime,
Traverse all space, and endure for all time.

—Henry Stommel.

We, the Class of 1938, dedicate this book to Miss Miriam Roberts, whose service, leadership, cooperation, and splendid creative ideas have added in no small measure to our enjoyment and happiness.

FOREWORD

As students graduating from high school, we profoundly appreciate radio's importance both in our past and future careers. Radio is a graphic illustration of the necessity of cooperation among people in every walk of life. In the broadcasting studio, the skillful labor of the engineer at the controls is as vital to the ultimate success of the program as the efforts put forth by the versatile Shakespearian actor to entertain his unseen public. So it is with our school, each student striving not merely for personal reward, but unselfishly for the betterment and renown of his Alma Mater—not only in scholarship, but in sports and cultural activities as well.

Like the unknown artist, who, half-apprehensive, half-rejoicing, makes his debut to the vast world beyond the airwaves, we, too, enter upon a new contract, promising to live up to in every way the high standards set by the faculty and by the alumni of Freeport High School. Important or trivial as our first programs may appear, they will, nevertheless, establish a foundation upon which we shall build a richer, happier success.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

THE guiding geniuses of all radio programs are the experts who sit behind their instruments and regulate the volume, timing, and tone of a broadcast. No one is aware of the tremendous import of their duties; their work is merely taken as a matter of course. So it is with our faculty who have so effectively guided our high school program throughout the years. Our success can be attributed to their earnest endeavors. They have directed and led the daily activities so well that our future programs should be without interference or discord.

GREETINGS TO THE CLASS OF 1938

FREEPORT High School is sending forth the largest graduating class in its history—a class prepared for service to the community in business, social, and civic life. The Year Book presents a word and picture story of your service to Freeport High School and is destined, therefore, to become one of your most treasured possessions. The most interesting work of your class, your clubs, your athletics, your organizations, are recorded here. To everyone in Freeport High School there is a warm appeal in the story of high school life which these pages tell—the story of school ilfe—scholastic, athletic, and social.

High scholarship, good fellowship and the development of character building through class work, and extra curricula activities are the aims toward which the student life in Freeport High School is directed. A spirit of friendliness, an earnest and confident co-operation between students, faculty and the community, are dominant characteristics of our schcol.

The fitness of the theme of your Year Book at graduation time challenges thought. For years the radio has attracted youth. The figure you see peering into the microscope in radio research is broad shouldered, young, and vigorous. It is fitting, therefore, that this Year Book should take as its central theme—radio.

Radio itself has barely made a beginning, as accomplishments of today are measured. It presents a genuine appeal to the interests of all young people. It is an up-to-date and worthwhile theme for your Year Book.

Best Wishes to the Class of 1938. May each of you have the satisfaction of well deserved achievement won.

GEORGE C. COLYER,
President of Board of Education

STUDENTS OF FREEPORT HIGH SCHOOL

IN WRITING this article for your yearbook, I wish I were able to convey to you the thrill that comes to me in speaking in your assemblies, in meeting you at your athletic contests, at your school plays; and of the pleasure and privilege of greeting you along the high school corridors and in the classrooms. As I look at your accomplishments and records, I confess to pride in the present generation of young people.

Graduation to me represents young people at their best entering upon the most vital period of their growth. Here is an imaginary milestone on the turnpike of growth and achievement, at once a resting place for thought and meditation, and a starting point for fresh exertion in the performance of the journey. The fame, the popularity, the friendships, and the cheers of your high school days are all a necessary part of your education.

Our foremost challenge is that of producing citizens who respect knowledge, are eager in its pursuits and skillful in its use. Fame may be accidental, popularity may take wing, the crowds may cheer; one thing alone endures! That is character. Character is the result of two things—mental attitude and how we spend our time.

JOHN W. DODD,
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CLASS OF 1938

MAN is a gregarious being. He craves comradeship, fellowship, and sympathetic understanding from his fellows. This urge of the human race is responsible for the wireless, telegraph and telephone, the radio, and television. Through the medium of radio and television, space is no longer a barrier to man in his desire to communicate with his fellows.

Man not only wishes to be with his fellows but he wants to be desired by them. In high school we label those who are desired most by their fellows as popular. Those who are popular in the best sense of the word, we call leaders in school life. We elect them president of our clubs and captain of our teams. These people who are gifted with the ability to lead have a great responsibility to their fellows and to the school. Those who use their popularity as a license, failing to recognize their responsibility to those who are looking to them for leadership, soon fall by the wayside.

The Voyageur is a record of those who have kept faith with this fundamental urge of humanity. These students have accepted positions of leadership in the school and have made good. The biggest problem in the fields of business, industry, and the professions awaiting the members of the 1938 class is, therefore, the age old problem of human relationships.

My best wish for you at this commencement season is that you may continue to be leaders in all worthwhile movements in society, that you may be at all times true to the trust and confidence of those who are looking to you for leadership, and that you may at all times be worthy of lasting friendships.

Members of the Graduating Class of 1938,

GREETINGS AND HEARTIEST CONGRATULATIONS

YOU are now going out into the world to have new experiences in meeting new and difficult situations. How you meet them will depend upon the foundation of character which you have laid during these school days.

We are all keen about the radio and marvel at the wonderful broadcasting stations. Did you ever realize that we each have access to the greatest broadcasting station ever known? The Creator of you and me is willing to send out guidance and help any time we "tune in." Someone has said, "Wisdom is knowing what to do, skill is knowing how to do it, virtue is doing it." By "tuning in" to this Great Broadcasting System, we may each get the wisdom, skill and virtue to make a success of life. The condition for getting in tune with this station is simply a sincere desire to get God's help and guidance.

That you may always be "tuned in," is my earnest desire.

Your sincere friend,

RUTH E. COCHRAN,
Vice-Principal of the High School

CLASSES

IN a studio, one sees various types of people gathered in groups either broadcasting or rehearsing for various activities. A few are radio stars; others are announcers; still others are educators; and the rest are the members of the cast who are not outstanding but essential to the broadcast. A high school, like a studio, has similar groups of people. They are divided into classes, and in each class there are leaders, orators, scholars, athletes, and the lesser known members of the group. These classes are all engaged in a major broadcast which will determine their places in the world.

ORGANIZATIONS

INNUMERABLE dots and dashes speed their way unerringly across the aerial void of the ether. Each dash and dot is an indispensable part of a message, which may be important, or perhaps negligible. However, the presence of each sound is what makes the ethereal communication possible and the dots and dashes achieve their ultimate purpose by this unity. So, in our school, each member of a club possesses something that is necessary to his club's success. In exchange for his knowledge, he shares the combined ideas of fellow-members. The organizations in Freeport High School are so numerous and their purposes are so varied that it is possible for one to further, in the company of his comrades, almost any inclination he may possess.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

AT THE convention of the National Education Association held at Cleveland, Ohio, in 1920, Edward Rynearson, H. V. Church, and Merle Prunty were placed on a committee to draw up the charter of an honorary society for high schools. This committee presented its findings at the 1921 convention at Atlantic City, and in 1922 the first charter was granted to the National Torch Society of Chicago. This society was intended to be the Phi Beta Kappa of high school. However, Mr. Rynearson soon presented a new point of view in his contention, that to place entire stress upon scholarship would make the organization "highbrowish" as he expressed it. Thus, in order to establish a broader base for eligibility, three other points, character, leadership, and service, were combined with scholarship as the four cardinal principles of the organization. And so the National Honor Society of today had its beginning. At the present time there are, in the United States, 2,200 chapters of the society, with 350,000 active members. This does not include those members who have left high school for the educational, business, or professional worlds.

On December 31, 1929, Freeport High School was granted the 913th charter of the organization with Mr. Mansperger as sponsor. At that time ten members were inducted. Since then our chapter has grown until at the present time we have thirty-three active members.

Last June eleven members of the Junior Class were inducted at a dinner at the Freeport Elks Club before about seventy-five alumni, former members of the society. At this banquet, which is a tradition of the Society, Mr. G. Buchard Smith, President of the Board of Education from 1925 to 1933, presented to the incoming members, on behalf of the Sons of The American Revolution of which he is vice-president, the emblems of the Society. Those inducted were Jeanne Fenner, Helen Fleming, Gerry Lombaer, Pearl Lombaer, Glen Lamb, Fred Friedman, Horst Schweighofer, Jack Lugrin, John Tree, Albert Da Silva, and Henry Stommel. Both Miss Mattson and Mr. Mansperger are honorary members of the Society.

During the Senior High School Assembly on February 24, twenty-two members of the Senior Class were similarly honored. They were Edward Bogowski, Vira Combs, Jean Duncan, Jacquelin Ferris, Betty Gardner, Harold Goeller, Margaret Goller, Edgar Gunther, Audrey Hanse, James Harrison, Mildred Lindmark, Mary Lutz, Edith McKenna, Virginia Miller, Constance Moore, Katherine Sheard, Irving Smith, Jean Stander, Tom Sweeny, William Thompson, Anne Tiernan, and Dorothy Wilson.

We of the class of 1938 who have been so honored feel that the course of our lives has been charted, for we realize that henceforth our conduct must be an example to those about us. And no matter where we may journey throughout the United States, when we encounter another wearing the emblem of the National Honor Society, we shall know without further acquaintance that here is an outstanding personality and one who is working with us toward higher standards and ideals in the lives of the youth of America.

THE G. O. Executive Committee, organized last year, is now efficiently administering the funds of the G. O. The faculty and the students are each represented by six votes on the committee, because the athletic coaches vote only when their sport is in season. The dual purpose of this organization is to render suggestions and recommendations concerning all financial affairs of the G. O.; and to apportion the G. O. funds among all member organizations, which do obtain funds from the G. O. Because its operations have been successful thus far, this committee will, without doubt, become a permanent one.

THE GENERAL ORGANIZATION

UNDER the expert guidance of President Jack Lugrin, Treasurer James Harrison, Miss Mattson, and Mr. MaHood, the G. O. has made a financial success of the 1937-1938 Administration. By means of a novel way of selling activities tickets in a special assembly, approximately 850 students purchased them.

The G. O. awarded bonuses to the classes and homerooms, in which 75% of the students bought tickets, and also to the homeroom managers who collected the highest percentage of paid-up activities tickets.

With these additional funds, the G. O. sponsored six dances, the best of which was the elaborate Christmas dance.

In the first G. O. assembly the world-famed adventurer, Richard Halliburton, spoke to the audience. At the second, Paul Muro and his orchestra gave a fine musical performance.

Taken into G. O. membership this year, were two recently organized clubs, El Ciris and the Pythogoreans.

The G. O. is to be highly congratulated for its many innovations and its efficient service to the Student Body.

EDITORIAL

SINCE their first meeting, held in June to consider tentative plans, the Editorial Staff has worked with enthusiasm to make this Voyageur the finest yet published in Freeport High School. Anne Tiernan, Editor-in-Chief, and Bill Thompson, Art Editor, have done exceptionally good work and deserve the highest praise. Again this year, the Voyageur has been under the supervision of Miss Barlow. The theme of Radio and the widely diversified layouts give distinction to the book. We are proud to present this Voyageur to you—and hope that it will recall to you many happy memories.

BUSINESS

THE business staff competently advised by Mr. Moger, has worked earnestly to give you this splendid year book. Horst Schweighofer, who was manager again this year, and Franklin Wolfe, his assistant, led the staff in its various activities. The advertising section has been made more attractive by placing student pictures among the advertisements. This year, the staff has set a new record for securing advertising for the year book. It has also added several student photographers to its organization. We extend our sincere congratulation and thanks to Mr. Moger and his staff for so ably financing this publication.

THIS YEAR, "The Student" has aroused the interest of the school thru changes in its appearance and content. The department writeups have improved in literary quality. This is especially true of the feature, "Familiar Faces." In response to the trend toward more pictorial matter, clever cartoons as well as well-focused, interesting photographs of school personalities have been included. Those unattractive dots of last year's layouts have been eliminated and a more pleasing type has been used. The appearance of the magazine has been enlivened by printing the covers in gay colors.

Under the supervision of the editor, Helen Fleming, and the adviser, Mrs. Bockoven, "The Student" was published three times this year. The staff chose the themes, Adventure and Christmas, and assigned a general theme to the last issue. These themes were used by the columnists as well as by those who submitted stories. It has been found that when there is a definite theme more and better matter is submitted, and the magazine becomes more interesting and unified.

CONTINUING the progressive spirit of "Flashings," Editor Albert Da Silva and his staff, under the guidance of Mr. Jones, have increased the size of the paper, and added greatly to its interest.

The introduction of the eight column sheet proved popular. It provided greater scope for both news and advertisements.

New features were added to interest all groups in the school. Among these features was "Junior Hi-Lites," a section devoted entirely to the accomplishments of the younger boys and girls. This page is edited by the Junior High. Another new feature was "Student Opinions." Here the students discussed their views on many weighty topics.

In November, with the assistance of Dr. Dodd, "Flashings" published an Education Week issue covering all the Freeport schools. This edition received much favorable comment.

Congratulations are due the entire staff for a fine student paper.

THE A. A. Council has again rendered a year of service to Freeport High School. The chief function of the Council is to approve the letters awarded by the various sports. This year, girls' basketball was made a major sport. To stimulate school spirit, all lettermen were requested to wear their sweaters on Thursdays. As usual, the members again this year ushered at the basketball games. The members are as follows: Al Arata, Norman Carnie, Earle Mack, Raymond Searfoss, Arvid McQueen, Chester Ciotti, George Ryder, Jack Doyle, Strain Sutton, Martin Goldman, Donald Anderson, Betty Gardiner, Mary Dunn, Kitty Sheard, Vira Combs, Emily Fagan, Lillian White, and Doris Rhodes.

House Managers
Glen Lamb, James Brown
Faculty Adviser.....Mr. Parker

THE Assembly Committee has the responsibility of planning and managing the assemblies presented each week. This year with Mr. Parker's assistance, they have functioned very efficiently and have brought us a large variety of entertaining and educational programs.

A unique method of selling Activity Tickets was inaugurated by having the sales drive in the assembly and awarding a prize to the class having sold the most. In the special G. O. Assembly, Richard Halliburton, world-famous traveler and adventurer, told us of his exciting experiences. Among the other outstanding presentations were the Jubilee Singers and the program featuring Lois Bannerman, the harpist.

We wish next year's committee the greatest possible success in the execution of its duties.

SENIOR HIGH TRAFFIC SQUAD

OFFICERS

Boys' Captain.....Earle Mack
Girls' Captain ....Betty Gardner
Boys' Lieut.....Harold Goeller
Girls' Lieut. .....Pearl Lombaer
Faculty Adviser....Mr. MaHood

THE Senior Traffic Squad, as the name implies, has as its duty, the maintenance of order in the halls of Freeport High School. Among its other duties are ushering at assemblies and evening performances, and helping to prevent losses in the locker rooms. Betty Gardner and Earle Mack act as captains with the assistance of lieutenants, Pearl Lombaer and Harold Goeller. The other members are Edith McKenna, Vira Combs, Betty Andres, Lillian Eidenweil, Audrey Hanse, Carol Osten, Margaret Goller, Eunice Gesecus, Anne Tiernan, Helen Dammas, Frances Mills, Ruth Fowler, Hennie Marsson, Lillian White, Edward Bogowski, Ralph Ehrich, David Jenkins, Glen Lamb, Walter Malik, Sam Pisicchio, Irving Smith, Harlan Strader, and John Jacobi.

FOR the first time in our high school, the homeroom managers have been recognized and their picture placed in the year book. For many years these students, who are now under Mr. MaHood's supervision, have performed their duties without any public acknowledgment of their fine work.

Each year every homeroom elects its manager or managers. They are chosen because of their dependability and capability. It is their duty to collect the money for the Activity Tickets and have the tickets stamped, to distribute "Flashings" and the "Student," and to make any important announcements that affect the homerooms.

THE Rifle Club this year continued its steady improvement. Aided by an increased G. O. allowance, the members were able to obtain the further necessary funds for purchasing a fine, new target rifle, the use of which resulted almost immediately in a noticeable improvement in scores. In order that each member of the Rifle Club might compete in matches, a Second Rifle Team was formed. We feel sure that with such fine spirit and ambition the Rifle Club will climb to even greater heights.

THE Kodak Klub was reorganized this year under the advisership of Mr. Kellett. The club, under its newly organized plan, has limited its membership to twelve. This will include the students who are most interested in photography and who have a fair knowledge of it. A contest was sponsored by this club, among its members, and cash awards were offered for the best pictures taken between February 15, and March 15. During the coming year, this club hopes to obtain advanced material and a light-proof room which they intend to use for the school's progress and advancement in photography.

EVERYONE in our high school is aware of the tremendous value of our library club in keeping order and efficiency in the high school library system. Every school day, under the supervision of Miss Swan, club members are placed on duty, taking care of the lending, shelving, and returning of the books. The girls, who have been carefully trained, do their work well. This year the library club sponsored a Southern Hospitality Dance in the gymnasium as part of its social program. It also entertained the newly formed Mepham High School Library Club at a social gathering.

THE Science Club, under the direction of Mr. Jordan, covers in its yearly activities the many varied interests of its members. A member of the American Institute of Student Science Clubs, it offers its members many courses in the city at the Museum of Natural History, the Hayden Planetarium, and the Guggenheim School of Aeuonautics, besides many lectures and special programs.

THE Masque and Wig Club is one of the largest clubs in school. The main purpose of this organization is to develop student talent and to provide entertainment of a high character.

Three plays, "Oh Doctor," "Benjamin Franklin," and "The Knave of Hearts," which were presented in assembly were enthusiastically received. The senior play, "Big Hearted Herbert," was also presented and proved to be a huge success.

In addition to these accomplishments, this year the club participated in an "Annual One Act Play" contest, held at Baldwin. All schools in Nassau County were eligible and a cup was the award presented.

THE Debate Club is not so esoteric a group as the subject which it discusses might suggest. In fact it often indulges in the lighter things, having sponsored the Dutch Treat Assembly. The team is selected from amongst the members of the club, and meets the teams of neighboring schools, usually taking away the laurels. One of the most looked forward to debates is the annual Peekskill-Freeport Debate which takes place just before the Peekskill-Freeport football game each year.

UNDER its leader, Miss Bates, and with Jean Duncan as its president, the Tri-Circle Club has become one of the school's best known organizations. It has a membership of over forty girls who have kept the pledge of service in helping the school and community. The members have worked on projects for the Red Cross, and at Christmas they filled baskets for the needy. Among the outside activities of the club were several cake and candy sales which were very successful. The Tri-Circle Club is deserving of much praise for its achievements in the past year.

THE increasing number of equestriennes who have joined the Riding Club have made it necessary to have three days for riding every week. Monday, Tuesday, and Friday are the days reserved for this sport. In the latter part of February, a horse show was given in which the girls showed their skill in horsemanship. Judging from the pleasure which the girls derive from riding, this club may be considered one of the most popular in Freeport High School.

SENIOR HIGH BAND

UNDER the leadership of Mr. Wettlaufer, the Freeport High School Band has enjoyed a most successful year, high lighted by countless colorful activities. It combined with the Baldwin High School Band at the annual Election Day classic to present intricate formations, led by Rita Strangfeld, drum-major; it entertained the public at three free Sunday afternoon concerts; it presented, as is customary, the G. O. band concert in the spring, participated in the Sunday School Parade and the American Legion parade, and played for all pep meetings. In the celebration of Armistice Day, the cornets and trumpets sounded "Taps" on the street corners of the village.

The Exchange Club sponsored a concert at which Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, world-famous band conductor, directed several selections. The band also had the honor of being featured in a Warner Brothers Vitaphone short, "Hold That Ball," the first time a high school band in the United States has filled a contract with a major film corporation.

MR. WETTLAUFER raises his baton, and the Senior High School Orchestra breaks into the strains of the lovely "Beautiful Lady." The curtains softly close and the students file from the auditorium. The program is over, but the beautiful melody rendered throughout the year, at numerous and varied functions of the school, will be remembered long after the music has died away.

The year 1937-1938 will always be an outstanding one in the history of the orchestra, for it entertained at assemblies, at the American Prize Speaking Contest, at the annual Alumni assembly, at Christmas-time, at the Parent-Teachers Association meetings, at the Fashion Show, and at the Spring Concert sponsored by the G. O.

SPORTS

AS THE wandering minstrel of centuries past was the carrier of tales of great deeds of strength and valor performed on the battlefield, so radio is the modern carrier of the great deeds performed in the field of sport. It was through the medium of radio that hundreds of alumni who could not attend the Freeport-Baldwin game heard a vivid play by play account of this traditional gridiron clash. It would seem a far cry from the epic poems of Homer, recited at the banquet, to a present day sports announcer whose terse, descriptive account of the transpiring events pours out of the loudspeakers of a million homes; yet essentially they are the same in spirit.

FOOTBALL

UNDER two new coaches, Mr. Tirrell and Mr. Franklin, Freeport High School football showed definite signs of regaining the high level set by the teams of previous seasons.

Starting slowly because of the new coaching system and because of injuries to keymen at the backfield positions, the squad broke a long losing streak with a decisive victory over Hicksville. The traditional Baldwin game was a great tribute to the ability of the new mentors. The team showed fine coaching and indomitable spirit in out-playing a highly favored Baldwin team. A two touchdown victory over Peekskill and hard fought games with Sewanhaka and Lawrence climaxed the uphill struggle.

The fine showing of the Junior Varsity and of a freshman team that lost only to our own sophomore team is the reason for the optimistic tinge on the Freeport High School football horizon.

1937 SQUAD

UNDER the fine coaching of Mr. Glen O'Donavan, Freeport High School again succeeded in turning out a championship basketball five. The team, captained by Raymond Searfoss, compiled an enviable record of fifteen victories and two defeats. They are to be doubly commended for winning the Robert L. Bacon Trophy—emblem is of the Nassau County Championship.

Too much credit cannot be given Captain Searfoss and Coach O'Donavan, but essentially this was a team year. When one thinks of the red and white quintet, the names of Glacken, Ryder, Hicks, Freidman, Trutner, Stephenoff, Hoffman, and our esteemed Captain Searfoss, all come to mind. There were no stars, for the entire squad was noted for skill, sportsmanship, and fighting spirit.

In the course of its victorious march the team vanquished such noteworthy opponents as Mineola, Hicksville, Haverstraw, Lawrence, and our traditional foe, Baldwin. The two losses were one point over-time decisions to Adelphi and Baldwin.

The 1937-38 team deserves much praise, and we feel sure that next year's team will continue this year's high standard.

ONE of the most successful track teams in the history of Freeport High School engaged in seven meets during the 1937 season. Under the coaching of Wesley Southard, the squad gathered victories over Westbury, Woodmere, Oceanside, and a double triumph over Westbury and Sewanhaka in a triangular relay meet. A loss to Chaminade and a hard fought tie with Baldwin completed a record which was good enough to crown Freeport Conference Champions. Inspired by the brilliant running of their captain, Alvin Siegfriedt, the team fought its way up to second place in the competition of the County Championship. Outstanding members of the 1937 squad, other than Captain Siegfriedt, were Ray Stong, "Specs" Brodbeck, Tim Sutton, Jack Lugrin, and Wilbur McGinley.

This year, with a squad composed mainly of veterans, Coach Southard feels that Freeport will surpass even the fine record of 1937.

ONCE again Freeport was represented by a powerful aggregation on the baseball diamond. Coached by Glen O'Donavan and captained by Robert Fitzgerald, the baseball nine gained eight victories and lost hard fought games to Hempstead and Lawrence. Something always to be proud of was the two victories over the Baldwin nine by the scores of four to one and four to three. Some of the stars of the season were Jerry McCarthy, freshman first baseman and leading batter, Bill Trutner and Joe Glacken, sophomore infielders, and Arthur Hermann and Marshall Glenz, in the outfield and catching positions respectively. Too much credit cannot be given to Captain "Bob" Fitzgerald whose pitching and fighting heart contributed much to Freeport's baseball success.

With last year's experience and the fine leadership of Captain-elect Ciotti, we are all looking forward to 1938 as another banner baseball year.

OUR baseball team was able to establish a fine record this year. Of the eight games the girls played, they won six and lost two. The neighboring schools which they defeated were Baldwin, Oceanside, East Rockaway, Farmingdale, and Amityville. The Freeport players bowed only to Babylon and Malverne.

Mr. Hollander acted as coach, while Lorraine Magan led the girls as captain.

In previous years, the baseball lettermen have received minor awards. However, in 1937, the girls received major letters.

We hope that next year's team will be able to equal the fine playing of this year's group.

THIS year our girls' basketball team had an excellent season. They defeated nine of their ten opponents, bowing only to Oceanside. This is indeed a record that both the girls and the school can be proud of.

The girls played a sharp, swift game that generally left their opponents baffled. The guards ably isolated their rivals, enabling the forwards to make the baskets. Because of the cooperation on the part of the entire team, the Freeport girls were often able to pile up very high scores against their opponents.

The leader of this successful team was Katherine Sheard, who has held the position of Captain for two consecutive years.

Hearty congratulations are extended to this year's team, and may next year's squad be just as successful.

AGAIN our hockey girls have followed the Freeport tradition of establishing an enviable record. This season, with a schedule of nine games, the girls won five, tied three, and lost one. The Freeport players piled up eighteen goals, allowing their opponents only five.

This season's squad was coached by Miss Clark and led by Captain Lillian White who proved both competent and popular. The captain-elect for next season is Betty Banker who is developing into one of the best goalies on Long Island.

Our players acquitted themselves well at the Annual Hockey Tournament at Adelphi College. Of the three games played, the girls won two and tied the other. Several players were chosen for the All Long Island Team. Of these Betty Banker was placed on the "A" squad for excellent playing, and Doris McClean was chosen for the "B" squad as a good player.

Congratulations to our hockey squad for this record.

THE Freeport High School swimming team is well on the road to making the 1937-38 season one of the finest in high school history. The squad is coached by Mr. Hollander and captained by Lewis Kaeser. The team's success may be attributed to the fine coaching, experience, skill, and keen competitive spirit. In regard to individual accomplishment, Captain Kaeser, Allan Stokke, Raymond Stong, Gilbert Fitzpatrick, and Martin Faber were outstanding. In their first three meets our mermen garnered decisive victories over our arch athletic rival, Baldwin, and Woodmere. To the team we extend our heartiest congratulations.

IN ONLY its third year of inter-scholastic competition, the Rifle Team can look back with pride upon its achievements. This year, thru the earnest efforts of Mr. Moger and Rifle Club members, two new Winchester 52 Rifles were obtained. Immediate improvement in scores was evident. Although challenging teams of superior marksmanship, the team compiled a creditable record of fourteen victories and eight defeats. Two outstanding events of the season were competition in the State Championship Meet at New Haven and in a scholastic meet among Nassau Schools at Valley Stream. A Rifle Team No. 2 is also entering in national competition. Rigby, Reetz, Schweighofer, Elar, Thompson, and Goeller (Mgr.) earned letters.

THE boys' Golf Team played through a schedule of five games with Chaminade, Lynbrook, Hempstead, Sewanhaka, and Baldwin. The Old Westbury Country Club was the contest grounds of the home games. Although the team did not make an impressive record in the victories column, the players gained much valuable experience during the course of the season. The whole team and the faculty adviser, Mr. Franklin, are hoping to have a more successful record this year.

GRADUATION having seriously depleted the ranks of the tennis squad, Mr. McKenna was forced to build a team without even one experienced member. The following games were played away: St. Paul, Hempstead, Sewanhaka, Lawrence, Garden City, and Baldwin. These were played at home: Lawrence, Garden City, Baldwin, Hempstead, Sewanhaka, and Faculty. Because of the fine tennis played by Russell Terry, Richard Van Tuyl, and Charles Baird, we believe Mr. McKenna has now laid the foundation for a powerful squad. The squad has our whole hearted support and best wishes.

THE tennis girls were led by able Captain Hennie Marsson. For two consecutive years Hennie has held this position, proving her ability and popularity with the team. The season was spent chiefly in organizing the girls into smoothly cooperating partners and in having them improve their game. This preparatory work was necessary as the team was composed mainly of new members. The girls played nine games, including Baldwin, Garden City, Friend's Academy, Amityville, and Sewanhaka. Of these matches, the girls won two and tied one. Because of this year's training, the team should have an excellent season in 1938.

WITH Lorraine Stockinger as captain and Miss Barlow as adviser, the Girls' Golf Team has had another successful season. The girls played seven matches: two with Baldwin, two with Lawrence, two with Woodmere, and one with Adelphi. Old Westbury is considered the home course for Freeport. Peggy Cochran, the team's star player, was elected captain of the 1938 team, and Anne Tiernan was made business manager. Although Peggy Cochran and Betty Gockley are the only members left of the 1937 team, new squad members such as Katherine Sheard, Betty Joan O'Brien, and June Rosenberg make the coming season appear promising.

CHEER LEADERS

SINCE this year's cheer leading squad was delayed in getting under way, the group was unable to find open dates in either the gym or auditorium schedule for necessary practice sessions. Despite this handicap and the return of only two of last year's squad, Henrietta Sorries and her group have done their best to spur our athletic teams to greater deeds by organized, enthusiastic cheering. The squad often met three or four times a week in business sessions. At these meetings, new cheers, ways of achieving greater cooperation, and means of transportation were discussed. It was thru these meetings and thru the efforts of Mr. Lobaugh that the squad is now able to attend all athletic contests, both at home and away. We feel sure that if the school meets the squad's demands for greater cooperation and better equipment, Mr. Lobaugh will turn out a cheer leading squad of which Freeport may be justly proud.

FEATURES

FOR some of our programs we have set up our microphone on the stage, for others on the athletic field, and for still others in the classroom. Some of us have been executives, some announcers, some actors, some musicians, and some technicians, but we have all taken part. However, not all of our activities have been serious for now and then we have undertaken a humorous program for variety. Here we present both sides of our life together—the sedate and the nonsensical—as it is both in and out of the class room.

SPECIAL FLASHES

WHEN our broadcasting studio was organized four years ago, we chose as executives six of our number to guide us through our struggling first year. Fred Friedman was our chief executive and Virginia Miller was his assistant. Pearl Lombaer acted as secretary and Helen Fleming handled the finances. Gerry Lombaer was in charge of social functions and James Brown represented us at G. O. meetings. Our first social event, the Freshman Tea Dance, was a big success, and we were greatly encouraged by its outcome. In December of that first year, several of our number were distinctly honored by membership in the National Junior Honor Society. They were Jeanne Fenner, Audrey Hanse, Helen Fleming, Jean Duncan, Glen Lamb, Malcolm Komitor, Mary Lutz, Gerry Lombaer, Pearl Lombaer, Joan Giblyn, Virginia Miller, Virginia Stewart, Horst Schweighofer, Bill Thompson, Margaret Goller, Edward Bogowski, Edith McKenna, Carol Osten, Albert Da Silva, John Tree, and Ralph Donnelly. In January many of us encountered the dreaded Regents and found them not nearly so formidable as represented. In February, Gerry Lombaer, representing our class, defeated the Sophomore class candidate in the American Legion Prize Speaking Contest, while in the literary field, Helen Fleming distinguished herself by winning the American Flag essay contest. Then one evening in June, to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," we marched up the aisle to receive our diplomas. We had reached one milestone in our careers.

In the fall we started work again by choosing new executives. This time, John Tree was placed at our head with Gerry Lombaer as second in command. Jeanne Fenner handled the secretary's job, and Constance Moore that of treasurer. Virginia Miller arranged our social events and Glen Lamb waged our battles at G. O. meetings. Albert Da Silva brought honor to himself and to the class by defeating the Freshman Class representative in the Prize Speaking Contest and Gerry Lombaer was awarded a medal given by the French Government to the best student of French II on Long Island. Our annual fall dance combined with the Junior Class dance was as successful as the one of the previous year. In the Spring the rollicking comedy, "Growing Pains," was presented, and those of our number who helped make it a success were James Brown, John Tree, Ann Di Tomas, Pearl Lombaer, Richard Du Bois, Orville Childres, and Edwin Budlong. At the end of this year we again closed the doors of the studio and went our many ways for a well earned vacation.

In September we returned, fortified by a good rest and the experience of the two preceeding years, to continue the interesting work we had been doing in our broadcasting studio. Jack Lugrin was installed as President, with Earle Mack, Jeanne Fenner, James Harrison, Carol Osten, and James Brown holding the offices of Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Social Secretary, and G.O. Representative respectively. Again Albert Da Silva distinguished himself by triumphing over the Senior Class representative in the Prize Speaking Contest. Edgar Gunther, a newcomer in our midst, won the French Government Prize for outstanding work in French III, and Virginia Miller, Helen Fleming, and Eunice Gesecus were winners in the state, county, and local Fidac Prize Essay Contests, Katherine Sheard, Betty Gardner, and Lillian White did outstanding work in girl's sports and were chosen captains of the basketball, baseball, and hockey teams. Jack Lugrin was elected President, Gerry Lombaer Secretary, and James Harrison Treasurer of the G.O. and Anne Tiernan was made editor-in-chief of the "Voyageur," Helen Fleming of the "Student," and Albert Da Silva of the "Flashings," for the following year. In June several of our number were awarded the highest honor of the school—membership in the National Honor Society. These were Jeanne Fenner, Helen Fleming, Gerry Lombaer, Pearl Lombaer, Horst Schweighofer, Henry Stommel, John Tree, Jack Lugrin, Fred Friedman, Albert Da Silva, and Glen Lamb.

Then came our last year as officials of our now influential radio station. For this final year, James Brown, John Tree, Jeanne Fenner, Earle Mack, Connie Moore, and John Hodgkins were elected to lead us to the triumphant climax of our high school life. In the fall Fred Friedman, Tom Primavera, Arvid McQueen, Jack Lugrin, Al Arata, and Herbert Post were heroes of the gridiron, and they were rewarded for their efforts with their "F." February brought the long awaited Honor Society Assembly and at that time—members of the class were elected to membership. Those so honored were Edward Bogowski, Vira Combs, Jean Duncan, Jacqueline Ferris, Betty Gardner, Harold Goeller, Margaret Goller, Edgar Gunther, Audrey Hanse, James Harrison, Mildred Lindmark, Mary Lutz, Edith McKenna, Virginia Miller, Constance Moore, Katherine Sheard, Irving Smith, Jean Stander, Thomas Sweeney, William Thompson, Anne Tiernan, and Dorothy Wilson.

Our school life has been a full one in which each person has made a definite place for himself. Now as we see in the near future the end of the busy, fruitful days spent in Freeport High School, we pause with mingled feelings of joy and regret to look back over the four years just behind us. As we consider in retrospect these eventful years, and prepare to go our many ways, we wish for each member of the class fulfillment of his hopes and dreams, and the greatest of success into whatever activity he may go.

ON AGAIN, OFF AGAIN

ON the night of December 11, 1937, the Masque and Wig Club presented its annual dramatic offering. This year the play, which was considered by a large audience as the best play presented in many years, was "Big Hearted Herbert," written by Sophie Kerr. When it was presented at Ithaca, New York, May fifth, in the Annual Play Contest, sponsored by Ithaca College, S.H.S. won first place, and Jane Young was awarded a scholarship.

The plot centers around the activities of Herbert Kalness, a self-made man, and his family of four. Herbert objects to college education, social functions, and the spending of money for luxuries. The climax is reached when the family revolts against Kalness' old-fashioned principles, and some interesting and highly amusing incidents result.

The play, because of the excellent acting on the part of the cast and the able coaching of Mr. Burnett, has done much to revive interest in dramatics in Freeport High School.

SENIOR GIRLS' CHORUS

Officers

President.....Greta Thompson
Vice-President.....Edythe Arenholz
Secretary-Treasurer.....Gloria Austin

UNDER the direction of Miss Roberts, and accompanied by Miriam Selzer, the Senior Girls' Chorus continued to play an important part in the activities of Freeport High School. It rendered carols at the Christmas Assembly, furnished the musical background for the Senior Honor Society induction, entertained during Girls' Week, sang for the commencement exercises at the Stadium, and participated in the Spring Concert. When the Music Department presented Miss Lois Bannerman, well-known harpist, the chorus accompanied her, assisted by the orchestra.

Beginning this year, gold pins will be presented to members who have served for four years, while felt emblems, similar to the pins, will be given to those having served for two years.

On March 3, the chorus presented the Otis M. Carrington operetta, "Lady Frances," with a revised libretto by Betty Joan O'Brien and appropriate selections added to the musical score. The setting is a room in a sorority house, decorated with penants; the time—the Saturday before college opens. The story concerns a wealthy noblewoman who masquerades as a maid in the college. Song sequences are furnished by the principals and the chorus. The two leading parts, those of Lady Frances and Bridget O'Harrigan, are taken by Helen Jane Curtis and Evelyn Staros, respectively; while other principals include Gloria Austin, Audrey Hanse, Helen Veit, Betty Joan O'Brien, Evelyn O'Mealey, Audrey Weide, Muriel Austin, Edith Hooker, Dorothy Berge, Greta Thompson, Shirley Stewart, and Norma Ryder.

GIRLS' WEEK COMMITTEE

THIS YEAR, Girls' Week, one of the outstanding extra-curricular activities of Freeport High School, was held during the week of March thirteenth. The theme for this fourth annual Girls' Week was Preparedness.

Sunday started the week with sermons in the various churches. Then on Monday, Dr. Anna Y. Reed, the personnel director at New York University, spoke to the girls on the topic, Planning for the Future. On Wednesday afternoon, an all-girl cast presented a play, "Two Many Marys." The music was furnished by the girls' chorus and an all-girl orchestra. This was followed by a reception in the gym for the mothers.

On Thursday afternoon, the girls held their annual tea dance. This year, Sports Night was discontinued and instead, on Friday, Dr. Carolyn B. Zachery spoke on Health and Its Importance to the High School Girl. The Girls' Riding Club presented a horse show Saturday evening at the Lakeside Riding Academy.

The girls have always supported their week by having a "mile-of-pennies" drive. This year, however, this plan was continued only in the four lower grades. The junior and senior high girls used the "waist-measuring penny an inch" plan.

To the Parent-Teachers Association, the Library Club, the Athena Club, and the Tri-Circle Club, we extend a vote of thanks for making this Girls' Week one that will long be remembered.

BOYS' WEEK COMMITTEE

ONE of the most important of our extra-curricular activities is Boys' Week. This year it took place during the week of October ninth. The dominant theme for this, the third annual Boys' Week of Freeport High School, was Character.

On Saturday, October ninth, Boys' Week was officially opened by a Father and Son Parade, led by the band to the Municipal Stadium, where the Hempstead-Freeport football game was played. The religious part of the week came on Sunday, October tenth, when special sermons were preached on Character and Religion at all the local churches. On Monday, Timothy Tinsley, the founder of the Big Brother movement, addressed the boys on Character and Choosing a Vocation. During the afternoon, the Village business was conducted by representatives elected by the student body. Then on Wednesday evening, fathers and sons were invited to a Sports Night program. The activities of the week were terminated by Dr. Ellenwood's address on Friday morning on Character and Personal Living.

Only through the splendid cooperation of the various churches and such organizations as the Exchange Club, the Kiwanis Club, and the Parent-Teachers' Association was this Boys' Week made such an unqualified success. We extend to them our sincere thanks and appreciation for their generous assistance.

JUNIOR HIGH

SOMEWHAT overshadowed by the din on the Senior broadcasting station are hundreds of lesser impulses, the Junior High School students. Here, let us turn for a moment from these louder frequencies to the minor wavelengths. One of the chief differences between long and short waves is that the short ones have farther to go. And so it is with the Junior High School students, who will after a few brief years occupy the coveted position of senior. As much as the graduating class, they are an integral part of the school.

NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

IN CLEVELAND, in the year 1929, the National Junior Honor Society was created by the Council of its sister organization, the National Honor Society, to stimulate higher aims in Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service among the students of the country's junior high schools. The Junior Society, though it conforms quite closely to the older group, has no direct connection with it. The Freeport chapter of the National Junior Honor Society was chartered on the 10th of March, 1931, as capter 47.

On Thursday, January 13, 1938, the annual induction was held in Freeport High School. Virginia Burkhard, Ilse Lang, Edward Doyle, Ruth Kormandy, Margaret Krang, and Edwin Lorey took part in the usual impressive service for the new members. Those inducted from the ninth grade were Helene Hirschthall, Anne Stommel, and Caroline Wolder. From the eighth grade, Gale Abbott, Clara Jane Berton, Gifford Doxsee, Harry Gunther, Janet Hirn, Stanley Krasnoff, Joan Nygren, Harry Rawlins, and Olive Walter were accepted into membership.

At the annual banquet last May, the group bestowed upon Miss Cochran honorary membership in the organization. Miss Cochran is also adviser of the chapter.

ADVERTISEMENTS

OCCASIONALLY it occurs to a radio-listener to inquire why American radio programs are, as a rule, so superior to all others. The probable answer to this question is that, because the majority of them are sponsored by commercial organizations, they are able to pay for unusually good performances. As the sponsors support the radio programs, so do our advertisers help us to offer a larger and better year-book. We extend to them our most sincere appreciation for their very substantial aid.
